

Apostrophes

It's a cryin' shame,
It's really not that fair,
I've this need for apostrophes, but there isn't one to spare

I'll find a way around it, They're easy to replace,
Just use the missing letters that used to take their place.

If you use the rules it's not that hard to see when you could've used one or where it shouldn't be.

I'm sure that readers everywhere will appreciate your time eradicating excess ones from each and every line

And then there'll be some spare ones so I can help you see the proper use for the single quote; as an a'p'os tro'phe
